

For the HOUSEHOLD

HOUSE furnishing nowadays is title floor covering. The carefully kept kitchen of the present is never without its linoleum flooring, and the housewife will find linoleums that are so beautiful of pattern that it seems almost a shame not to put them in the parlor, yet, at the same time this preparation of ground cork and oxidized linseed oil is being manufactured for lifelong wear, is warm for the winter and offers a surface that is vastly more sanitary than any bare floor.

In the matter of draperies, these will doubtless be selected after the rug has been chosen with a view to the matching of color, either in solid color stuff, like some of the new sunfast materials, or in flowered effects, such as we find in the lovely cretonnes of to-day. And by-the-way, cretonnes, and similar fabrics, are to be found in such patterns that an entire room may be done in the one design all the way from window hangings and portieres to couch and pillow covers and chair cushions—indeed even to dresser and bed valances.

It is the fashion of the present to have the inner white curtain of short length while the outer drape usually reaches to the baseboard. Sometimes these two window curtains may be made of the one material as is frequently seen in an old stuff put to new use for bedroom and sitting room hangings and that is muslin embroidery—machine embroidery, as we call it—than which nothing is more charming either in the solid embroidered designs or in the sun-filting open-work effect. The bed-sheets of embroidery to match the curtains is another delightful innovation. Our old friend, the Nottingham curtain, is also to be found in new and artistic designs, for, indeed, they are the standby of the fastidious, while scrim is another variety that offers a delightful choice both in the printed and in the woven styles—very pretty indeed for less elaborate use. The objection that room-hangings are not sanitary can be easily overridden by the beauty-loving person of to-day, since there are so many and varied methods of cleaning, of ridding the place of dust without pulling it all to pieces as in the good old-fashioned way.

Another line of furniture that has come to the front of style is wicker, for we seem to have recognized that it is not only pretty but extremely comfortable as well and makes the loveliest sort of combination with the new fashions in hangings. Such furnishings are well suited to the sitting room and library and especially to the bedroom of the daughter of the house or the bride.

Since American women have decided that comfort and cleanliness must go hand in hand, the result has been that while laws have been passed in several of the states in the matter of sanitation, the shop-keepers have been quick to realize the wishes of the housekeepers of the land, and are able to supply us with mattresses and pillows that will bear the least test of cleanliness and sanitation, that our one-third of life spent in sleep may be as free from lurking dirt and danger as is the air of the mountain.

tract a large attendance. In addition, a number of applications from candidates who desire to join the order will also be acted upon and if found to be acceptable they will be initiated at a subsequent meeting.

ELKS' WINTER SEASON
Beginning October the Elk's lodge will begin their winter season by holding two meetings each month. During the summer months they only hold one meeting. The next meeting of the order will mark the opening of the winter season and then they will consider the applications of at least a dozen new members who have applied to join the order in the last few weeks. There is no other lodge that is growing faster than the Elk's lodge of Bisbee, which is to a large degree due to the great deal of hospitality that they show the members of the order.

ELKS ENTERTAINMENT
This coming week the entertainment committee of the order will hold a meeting for the consideration of the social affairs of the winter season. Several of the members, while not speaking officially have intimated that this will be the greatest winter for the Elk's social affairs that were ever undertaken by them. They are planning to hold a number of special parties, the name and nature of which they will not disclose at this time. But those who were a little more liberal in their predictions said that the affairs which they had in mind would be eye-openers to the members. Another feature that will be taken up by the committee at the meeting is the plans for a big smoker to be held during the early part of October. The plans are to invite the Douglas lodge to attend the smoker and there is no doubt that the Douglas brothers will accept the invitation and come in grand style as the Bisbee lodge favored them with a visit late last spring.

LADIES OF MACCABEES
Ladies of Maccabees entertained their husbands and friends after Elve review, with an evening of Progressive whist. A goodly number responded to their invitations and a very pleasant evening spent. About twelve tables participated in the contest. Refreshments of pineapple punch and cake were served.

PANAMA CANAL HAS STIMULATED SHIPPING

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The New York American has investigated how the approaching opening of the Panama Canal has stimulated steamship companies. The magazine shows extraordinary activity. Building programs of magnitude have been already arranged by the United Fruit company, Royal Mail Steam Packet company, North German Lloyd, Austrian Lloyd and the Hamburg-American line. Three of these companies—the Royal Mail, North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American—have announced their intention of operating direct first-class passenger and freight steamers from Europe to San Francisco via the canal.

The Austrian Lloyd will send passenger and freight vessels from Mediterranean ports to the west coast of South America by the new sea route. It has completed arrangements with the Chilean government and is building four new steamers for the proposed service.

The United Fruit company, in addition to putting in service three new modern cruising liners this year, announces that orders have been placed in Glasgow for eight more vessels of the same type. Three of these will be placed in the regular Boston-Panama service, while the other five will be run from New York to Central America.

It was learned yesterday from a trustworthy source that in addition to inaugurating a direct service from Southampton to San Francisco by way of the West Indies and the Panama Canal, the Royal Mail Steam Packet company has given orders for the construction of five 20,000-ton fast passenger and freight steamers for service between New York and ports in Chili and Peru via the canal.

Three of the new vessels will be ready for operation next May, the remaining two in the fall.

For the reception of these big liners and for the accommodation of the extra steamers the Royal Mail intends to put in service this fall, work will be commenced this week on the lengthening of the Royal Mail pier in the North River to 1000 feet. This will enable the company to dock four steamers (two on each side) at one time. With the arrival of the new and larger vessels the line will have to seek pier space in some other part of the harbor.

The Hamburg-American line has invited tenders from American shipyards for the construction of new steamers for the canal trade, and the North German Lloyd has already commenced building two 15,000-ton high-speed vessels for its service from Bremen to San Francisco.

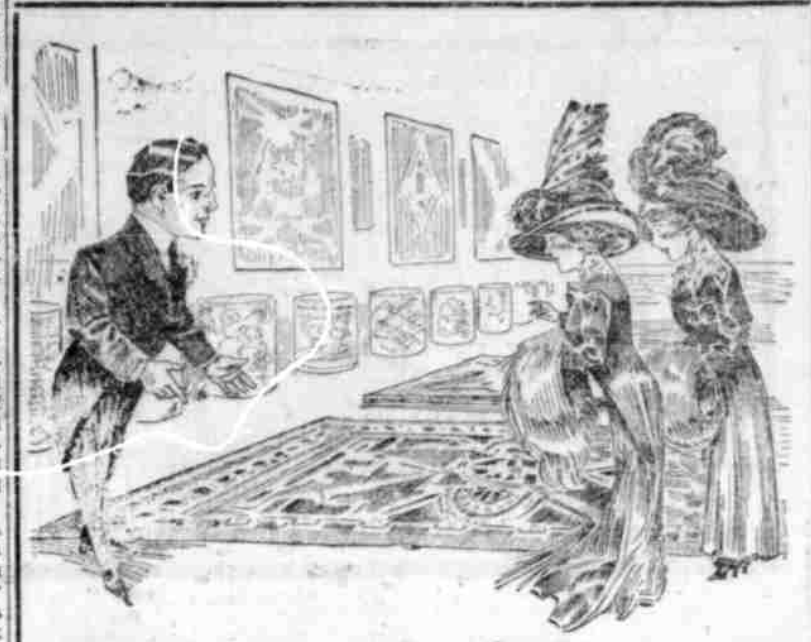

Steamship men here predict that tourist travel to the canal this fall will make a new record.

Besides the companies mentioned above, the White Star line has arranged for a number of special cruises to the canal by fast ocean liners. Succeeds Late P. J. Archer, Who Lost

WOMEN AVOID SOCIETY

They are reluctant to make the least effort when suffering from dizziness, backache, headache, nervousness, the blues, that bearing down pain or a displacement. Yet they would like to be well. Why continue to suffer when thousands of American women are living testimonials for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished in overcoming all such troubles and restoring glorious health.

Among The Fraternities

EAGLES WIN PRAISE

Bisbee Aerie Eagles accomplished a great deal for the good of the order last Tuesday night when they conducted the biggest Fraternal excursion ever made from the city by any organization for the purpose of paying a visit to a neighboring lodge. It was not only a record for the city in this respect, but also for the country, and very likely for the state. More than four hundred persons were on the Eagle train to Douglas, and they fairly made the Smelter city their own upon arrival there. It was truly a Bisbee night in the sister town. But it was only so because of the splendid greeting given and the hospitality extended by the Douglas Eagles, who had seen to it that there was nothing lacking to make the occasion a red letter one, not only in the history of their own Aerie but also in that of Douglas. They had the people of that city out and in the splendid conduct they gave to the night and the altogether laudable manner in which everything associated with the occasion was carried out, they certainly won golden praise and esteem for their order from the people of their city. Incidentally it may be said that demonstrations of the strength and excellent character of the membership of both Bisbee and Douglas Aeries represented a big boost for the order. Also the trip was not without fine results in aiding to closer relationship and friendliness as between the people of the two cities.

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

The Loyal Order of the Moose lodge was honored last Friday night with the presence of Dictator Roy Hiatt of Douglas, at its regular weekly meeting. A class of candidates were initiated and the visiting Dictator took the chair and conducted the initiation. A number of applications are on hand now and will be acted on next week. Almost all the interest of the lodge is centered on the big bazaar to be given in October, the plans and arrangements are rapidly nearing completion. The second floor room of the Bell and Bledsoe drug store was rented by the lodge for use during the bazaar and either a door will be broken through the wall or a large connecting platform built at the rear of the building so as to enable easy passage between the rooms. The ladies auxiliary committee reported that they are still engaged in making fancy work for the booths and are accumulating a large stock. Tonight, the winter social season will be opened with a grand sociable and hereafter the entertainment committee proposes to give a sociable each month. An interesting program will be given tonight and includes a wrestling exhibition by Roy McAllister and Billy Gunn, a boxing bout between Yasbinder an Borrego, Songs by the Moose quartette, a flute solo by Jordan, a mandolin selection by C. S. Scott, and other features. Invitation to attend the sociable was extended to the Douglas lodge and Dictator Hiatt stated that a delegation would come, but he could not say how many would be in the party.

LADIES OF THE EASTERN STAR
Among the secret organizations of the district noted for the large amount of sociability that they afford their members there is none that stands higher in the list than the ladies of the Eastern Star. At the last meeting held by this order it was decided that they would open the fall social season with a dance at the Country club. A committee was appointed to make the arrangements and decide upon a date. This committee has reported that the dance would be held on Thursday evening, October 9th, at the Country club and invitations to that effect will be issued by the committee it due time. At the next meeting arrangements for the entertainment of the Worthy Grand Master, Mrs. June Brown, on October 9th will be made.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS
At the regular meeting of the Knights of Pythias on Tuesday evening initiation in the third degree will be given to a class of candidates. This is one of the important degrees of the order and will undoubtedly attract a large attendance.

Table Service—Electric

Electricity as a safe clean and easily controlled heat source offers numerous advantages for prompt and exacting table service through the use of the Electrically heated Toaster, Percolator, Tea Kettle, Chafing Dish, Egg Boiler, Grill etc.—all are ready for use at the turn of a switch.

Electric Appliances For General Household Use

There are many useful electric appliances which consume so little current that they may readily be used on the regular lighting circuit on any lamp socket of proper voltage—and the high cost for electricity is not considered when compared to the great convenience derived therefrom.

Important among these appliances are the Flat Iron, Laundry and Ironing Machines, Vacuum Cleaners, Sewing Machine Motors etc.—
